The Arbiter

The Arbiter

A disgraced warrior

I may be

But from all battles

I did not flee

I was pulled aside

from all the rest

And a mark

was burned upon my chest

With new armor

but full of shame

I was given a great quest that would restore honor to my name

With nerves of steel

but faith that's frayed

My race was brutally

and utterly betrayed
With the Halo's Ark
ready to light
With new friends
we must finish the fight Alone I stand and with my knife I take Truth's pathetic life
With the Ark destroyed and nowhere to roam
My name restored
I make my way home.

End
file.
